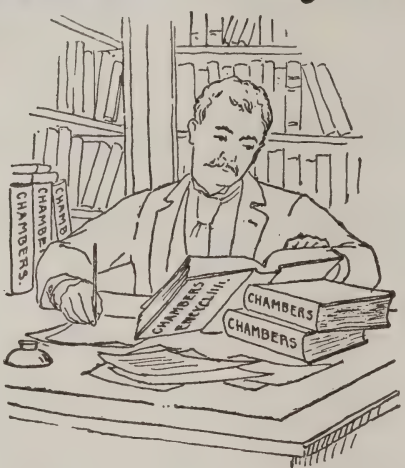
THE NEW

Chambers's Encyclopædia



AS a work of ready reference for the student, as a handy book of facts and statistics in a business office or school-room, as a guide in the home library,

CHAMBERS'S ENCYCLOPÆDIA
SURPASSES ALL OTHERS.

It is twenty years later than any of its competitors, and is really a new work. All the articles have been entirely re-written or revised, and thousands of new ones incorporated. The type is clear and of a beautiful cut; the numerous illustrations are remarkably fine; and the maps show not only all the countries of the globe, but also all the States and Territories of the United States.

IN TEN VOLUMES.
A VALUABLE AND EXTREMELY CHEAP SET OF BOOKS.

Price, per set, in cloth binding, $30.00; sheep, $40.00; half morocco, $45.00.

"A model Encyclopædia, which no intelligent person will make a mistake in purchasing."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"Chambers's Encyclopædia is now the best and most authoritative book of reference on all varieties of subjects that exists in the English language. All the big and costlier ones are out of date."—Phila. Eve. Bulletin.

"A library of literature, the scope of which is as broad as knowledge."—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

"One may say at once, without reservation, that none of the low-priced Encyclopædias can compare with Chambers's either in scholarship, range of subject, readableness, or effective condensation. In mechanical details, too, it is admirable."—Boston Beacon.

"Those who wish an Encyclopædia of the general character of Chambers's may take our word for it they can find nothing better. It is admirable in every respect."—N. Y. Examiner.

BULWER'S WORKS.

New and Beautiful Library Edition.

NOW COMPLETE.

The Novels and Romances of Edward Bulwer Lytton (Lord Lytton). With Etched Frontispieces from Drawings by Edmund H. Garrett. 40 vols. 12mo. Cloth, extra, gilt top, $1.50 per volume.

Half calf, extra, gilt top, or half morocco, gilt top, $3.00 per volume.

Unquestionably the most beautiful and the handiest edition of Bulwer ever published. The stories are divided into groups according to the author's own arrangement in the scarce Blackwood Edition, always a favorite with collectors because of its clear and beautiful type and handy size. The present edition in type and page and in beauty and handiness surpasses that edition, and has the advantage of containing a number of stories which it did not include, and of being embellished with Mr. Garrett's exquisite drawings. Any story can be supplied separately in cloth; and any series in cloth, half calf, or half morocco.

Special Advantages Possessed by the New Library Bulwer:

The volumes are of handy, convenient size, easy to hold in the hand.

The type is clear and beautiful, and has been made expressly for this edition.

The paper is of extra quality, affording an important adjunct to the printers' careful and beautiful work, the type being set and the volumes printed at the University Press, Cambridge.

The exquisite frontispieces are etched in the finest manner from drawings made especially for this edition by Edmund H. Garrett.

The volumes are bound in choicely decorated cloth, gilt top, and open easily, the style being similar to that of the Library Edition of Dumas.

The whole combines to produce a perfect library edition, complete in forty volumes, at a very moderate price.

We have long learned to reverence the fine intellect of Bulwer. Who is there uniting in one person the imagination, the passion, the humor, the energy, the knowledge of the heart, the artist-like eye, the originality, the fancy, and the learning of Edward Lytton Bulwer? — From Marginalia, Edgar Allan Poe.

Worthy of the immediate attention of all who may desire to build up a library of great authors. The volumes are beautiful, without and within. The size of type, the page, the margin, and all the fittings of the books are in finest harmony, and are most agreeable to the eye. It seems fitting that the writings of this author, several of whose novels stand so high in graphic and powerful writing, should be put into this attractive garb. We are sure that this exquisite edition will become the valued possession of many a lover of English literature. — Public Opinion.

Marked by special features of excellence, and indeed there is a goodly list to recount. — Boston Transcript.

A flawless edition. — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Many editions of these famous works of fiction have been printed, but none in recent times quite so attractive as this promises to be. The forty duodecimos standing in a row on a shelf will make a pretty picture. — New York Times.

Nothing more elegant and attractive in the way of book-making could be reasonably wished. Boston Budget.

The edition is one which cannot but command wide popularity, and it will deserve a place in every American library as being a completely satisfactory edition of one of the most versatile and agreeable of all English novelists — Boston Courier.

EPOCHS OF AMERICAN HISTORY.

Edited by ALBERT BUSHNELL HART, Ph.D.,

Assistant Professor of History in Harvard University.

MESSRS. LONGMANS, GREEN, & CO. take pleasure in announcing the completion of their series published, in three volumes, under the general title of EPOCHS OF AMERICAN HISTORY. Each volume contains specially prepared maps, working bibliographies, and full index. The maps in the three volumes have also been republished separately under the title EPOCH MAPS ILLUSTRATING AMERICAN HISTORY. The series is issued under the editorship of Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, Assistant Professor of History in Harvard University, as follows:

I. THE COLONIES, 1492-1750. By REUBEN GOLD THWAITES, Secretary of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin; editor of the Wisconsin Historical Collections; author of "Historic Waterways," "The Story of Wisconsin," etc. With four colored maps, pp. xviii, 301. Fourth edition now ready. Cloth, $1.25.

II. THE FORMATION OF THE UNION, 1750-1829. By ALBERT BUSHNELL HART, A.B., Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History in Harvard University; member of the Massachusetts Historical Society; author of "Introduction to the Study of Federal Government," "Practical Essays on American Government," etc. With five colored maps, pp. xx, 278. Second edition now ready. Cloth, $1.25.

III. DIVISION AND REUNION, 1829-1889. By WOODROW WILSON, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of Jurisprudence and Political Economy in Princeton University; author of "Congressional Government," "The State—Elements of Historical and Practical Politics," etc. With five colored maps, pp. xix, 326. Second edition now ready. Cloth, $1.25.

GENERAL SCOPE OF THE SERIES.

The purpose and extent of the Series is set forth in the following extracts from the Editor's Preface:

"In offering to the public a new HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES—for such the three volumes of the EPOCHS OF AMERICAN HISTORY, taken together, are designed to form—the aim is not to assemble all the important facts, or to discuss all the important questions that have arisen. There seems to be a place for a series of brief works which shall show the main causes for the foundation of the colonies, for the formation of the Union, and for the triumph of that Union over disintegrating tendencies. To make clear the developm ent of ideas and institutions from epoch to epoch—this is the aim of the authors and the editor.

"Detail has therefore been sacrificed to a more thorough treatment of the broad outlines: events are considered as evidences of tendencies and principles. Recognizing the fact that many readers will wish to go more carefully into narrative and social history, each chapter throughout the Series will be provided with a bibliography, intended to lead, first to the more common and easily accessible books, afterward, through the list of bibliographies by other hands, to special works and monographs. The reader or teacher will find a select list of books in the Suggestions in each volume.

"The historical geography of the United States has been a much-neglected subject. In this Series, therefore, both physical and political geography will receive special attention. Colonial grants were confused and uncertain; the principle adopted in preparing the maps for the Series has been to accept the latter interpretation of the grants by the English government as settling earlier questions."

 A prospectus, fully descriptive of the Series, with specimen pages, will be sent to any address on application.

Opinions of the Press.

"Every student and teacher must be thankful to Professor Hart for his 'Epoch Maps.' They bear witness to an immense amount of well-directed research among the sources."—NATION, N. Y.

"An historical geography of the United States and of the English Colonies, based on the original records, characters, governors, instructions, grants, and similar documents, has long been needed by students of American history. This want has now been supplied by Professor Hart of Harvard in these Epoch Maps. The series, suggestive to all students of history, is of special value to those who have not access to original sources.

The plan of the atlas is excellent. It merits wide attention."—EDUCATIONAL REVIEW, N. Y.

"The maps . . . are excellent, . . . and as history without maps is almost unintelligible, they will be useful to historical students."—SCIENCE, N. Y.

"Prepared with an intelligence and thoroughness of scholarship which will make them very valuable adjuncts of American historical study."—CHRISTIAN UNION, N. Y.

"Full of the fruits of accurate scholarship. The title is happily chosen, and tells the story of the contents. . . . History is here put in miniature before the eye. The story of discovery, exploration, colonization, struggle for supremacy, purchase and annexation, slavery and freedom, war, peace, and national growth are suggestively set forth."
—CRITIC, N. Y.

"In drawing these maps Professor Hart has based his conclusions absolutely and entirely upon documentary evidences. . . . Thus he has secured the only satisfactory working basis, the only one of which any one can be sure. There are few teachers of American history who will not find their ideas of our historical geography greatly classified by a careful study of these maps."
—JOURNAL OF EDUCATION.

"Of extreme interest and usefulness to the student of our history; a very lively idea of the progress of the anti-slavery struggle may be gained from the maps, illustrating the areas of freedom and slavery in successive periods."
—LITERARY WORLD, BOSTON.

EPOCHS OF AMERICAN HISTORY.

MESSRS. LONGMANS, GREEN, & CO. have the pleasure to state that they are now publishing a short series of books treating of the history of America, under the general title EPOCHS OF AMERICAN HISTORY. The series is under the editorship of DR. ALBERT BUSHNELL HART, Assistant Professor of History in Harvard College, who has also prepared all the maps for the several volumes. Each volume contains about 300 pages, similar in size and style to the page of the volumes in Messrs. Longmans' series, "Epochs of Modern History," with full marginal analysis, working bibliographies, maps, and index. The volumes are issued separately, and each is complete in itself. The volumes now ready provide a continuous history of the United States from the foundation of the Colonies to the present time, suited to and intended for class use as well as for general reading and reference.

 The volumes of this series already issued have been adopted for use as text-books in nearly all the leading Colleges and in many Normal Schools and other institutions. A prospectus, showing Contents and scope of each volume, specimen pages, etc., will be sent on application to the Publishers.

GEOGRAPHY AND ATLASES.

BUTLER. The Public Schools Atlas of Ancient Geography. Twenty-eight entirely new Colored Maps, drawn and engraved by E. WELLER, F.R.G.S. Edited, with an Introduction on the Study of Ancient Geography, by the REV. GEORGE BUTLER, Principal of Liverpool College. Imperial 8vo. $2.00*

Much the cheapest Atlas of its quality. The maps are selected with a view of facilitating the study of ancient geography in connection with history, particular attention being paid to those maps which illustrate classical authors. Great care has been taken in the construction of the maps, the object being to combine the elements of distinctness, accuracy, and simplicity, with due regard to proportion, both in the physical and political features.

CHISHOLM. Handbook of Commercial Geography. By GEORGE G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc.; Fellow of the Royal Geographical and Statistical Societies. 8vo. 522 pages. $4.00†

"Far in advance of other books recently published with similar titles. . . . The author has succeeded in imparting what Mr. Goschen calls 'an intellectual interest' to the study of geographical facts relating to commerce."—Educational Times.

"The volume will form not only a useful work of reference, but will also be an indispensable handbook to teachers of commercial geography: and will also prove of the greatest use to pupils who may pursue the highest branches of modern business education."—Chamber of Commerce Journal.

"No better text-book of the subject could be had for such institutes as deal with commercial geography. Taking the book as a whole, probably no hand-book of commercial geography in any language is equal to it."—Proceedings of the Royal Geographical Society.

Strongly to be recommended to students of political economy as a fresh survey of the course of international business.

CHISHOLM. School Text-book of Commercial Geography. By GEORGE G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc. 12mo. 216 pages. $0.90†

This book is in the main an abridgment of the author's Handbook of Commercial Geography. In making the abridgment, endeavor has been made to retain as much as possible of the matter that seemed fitted to present the leading facts of international commerce in such a way as to impress the memory. The description of countries is confined to features of importance in relation to commerce.

Like the larger book, this text-book is divided into paragraphs for the sake of making frequent cross references. The references are made by printing the number of the paragraph referred to in thick type in parentheses, thus (245).

CHISHOLM and LEETE. Longmans' School Geography. By GEORGE G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc., and C. H. LEETE, M.A., Ph.D. Revised. Large 12mo. 384 pages, with 70 Illustrations. $1.25*

"The closing paragraph of the prospectus is much closer to the opinion of the reviewer than such paragraphs usually are: 'This text-book adapts itself to pupils of intelligence and will be highly appreciated by all teachers imbued with a spirit for teaching real geography, not attempting to supersede their functions by dictating the length of the daily tasks or the questions that shall be asked, but furnishing a body of material so selected, arranged, and presented that its perusal is at once pleasurable, suggestive, and of substantial value.' This is perfectly true. . . . On the whole the book is remarkably successful."—Nation, N. Y.

CHISHOLM and LEETE. Longmans' New School Atlas. Consisting of 38 Colored Maps, with 22 Insets and a very full Index. Imperial 8vo. $1.50*

 Longmans' New School Atlas offers a series of Maps which it is believed will be found fully adequate for the most advanced school work, affording the material for careful and prolonged study and a basis for a broad knowledge of geographic principles and facts.

Though capable of being used with any text-book, the maps in this Atlas are specially adapted to illustrate the text of Longmans' School Geography.

The Geological Map of the United States and Canada was revised by Mr. W. J. McGee, of the U. S. Geological Survey, and in this map the Standard Color scheme now adopted for the maps of that Survey has been followed.

A prospectus describing the Atlas, with a Specimen Map, may be had on application to the Publishers.

CHISHOLM and LEETE. Questions Based on Longmans' School Geography. Large 12mo. $0.40*

 The objective point of these questions is to develop the thinking power of pupils. They are not, as a rule, capable of being answered from the study of a single paragraph, but require the comparison of various paragraphs and the exercise of the judgment. References are given to the paragraphs of the text-book to be considered and suggestions as to the direction of thought are sometimes added.

 A General Prospectus, covering the 'School Geography,' 'School Atlas,' and 'Questions,' which relate to one another and which are intended to form a basis for geography study in schools where more than elementary work is done, may be had of the Publishers.

CHISHOLM and LEETE. Longmans' New Atlas. Political and Physical. Consisting of 39 Quarto and 14 Octavo Maps and Diagrams, besides Insets. Engraved by EDWARD STANFORD. Imperial Octavo or Imperial Quarto. Half bound. $3.00*

The present Atlas is designed primarily as an Atlas for educational use. With this view, three things have been aimed at as of chief importance: first, the adequate representation of the physical features; second, the careful and somewhat exclusive selection of names; third, the facilitating of comparison as to size between the countries and regions included in the different maps. But in order that the Atlas may also be used as a work of reference, a great many more names have been included in the Index than are named on the maps. The position of such places, when sought for, can thus be easily found. . . . The American maps are new and were drawn specially for this Atlas.

COLBECK. The Public Schools Historical Atlas. Edited by C. COLBECK, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; Assistant Master at Harrow School. 101 Maps and Plans (53 colored). Post 4to. $1.50*

WHITE'S GRAMMAR-SCHOOL TEXTS.

With English Vocabularies. Edited by JOHN T. WHITE, D.D., Oxon. 18mo.

Each Text is provided with a Vocabulary of the words occurring in it. In every instance the origin of a word, when known, is stated at the commencement of the article treating of it, if connected with another Greek word; at the end of it, if derived from any other source. Further still, the primary or etymological meaning is always given, within inverted commas, in Roman type, and so much also of each word's history as is needful to bring down its chain of meanings to the especial force or forces attaching to it in the particular "Text." The series will be found an inexpensive and handy means of widening the Greek course of any school by a single book or two of Xenophon, etc. The volumes are well adapted to sight-reading, and private reading by scholars at home.

WHITE'S GRAMMAR-SCHOOL TEXTS.

With English Vocabularies. Edited by JOHN T. WHITE, D.D. Oxon. 18mo.

Each text is provided with a vocabulary of the words occurring in it. In every instance—with the exception of Eutropius—the origin of a word, when known, is stated at the commencement of the article treating of it, if connected with another Latin word; at the end of it, if derived from any other source. Further still, the primary or etymological meaning is always given, within inverted commas, in Roman type, and so much also of each word's history as is needful to bring down its chain of meanings to the especial force or forces attaching to it in the particular "Text." The series will be found an inexpensive and handy means of widening the Latin course of any school by a single book or two of Virgil, etc. The volumes are well adapted to sight-reading, and private reading by scholars at home.

SELECTIONS FROM CLASSICAL AUTHORS.

 This Series is intended to serve as a means by which young people may gain a first acquaintance with the great writers of Greece and Rome. The pieces have been selected with the view not of providing what are colloquially called "tips" for examination, but of familiarizing the student with the manner of each author, and giving him such an introduction to the matter as may lead him to desire a fuller knowledge of it. Literary interest rather than linguistic difficulty will therefore be found to be the main feature of the selections.

"From the point of view of education, this little volume is to be welcomed. As a reading-book it cannot fail to charm, and the task which opens pages like these to the eyes of childhood will soon cease to be regarded as a task. Moreover, it will be a pure gain that school-boys in the later years of their school life should approach the Iliad with that familiarity with its matter which such a volume as the present, followed perhaps by Pope's Homer, or Chapman's, or such other as chance may offer, will without fail have given. It will not be so much that the schoolboy 'shall be brought past the bitterness of his learning,' as that the bitterness will have ceased to exist for him."—Preface.

EPISODES FROM MODERN FRENCH AUTHORS. Edited by W. E. RUSSELL, M.A., Assistant Master at Haileybury.

 The aim of the series is to choose stories which are simple and interesting, and that each volume, while continuous enough to sustain interest, shall not be of greater length than can be finished in a term or two's ordinary work. Each volume consists of a detached portion of some French novel or story of good style, or of a series of portions of the same story pieced together by short "arguments" in English, so as to keep up the thread of the narrative, and preserve continuity of interest in the tale. The want of such reading-books for boys in Lower and Middle Forms of Schools has been felt by many teachers of French.

TEXTS AND TRANSLATION BOOKS.

BENEDIX. Dr. Truewald. Edited, with Notes, etc., by H. S. BERESFORD-WEBB. 16mo. 188 pages. $0.60*

EPISODES FROM MODERN GERMAN AUTHORS. Edited by H. S. BERESFORD-WEBB, Author of "A Practical German Grammar," etc.

It has been thought that a series of extracts from modern German Authors, on the same lines as the French "Episodes," might be useful to those engaged in teaching the language and preparing for the public examinations. Hitherto the choice of books to edit with this object has been confined to short tales, plays, etc., or in a few instances to connected portions of longer works. But as a rule those authors have been excluded whose works are too lengthy to be printed in their entirety. There seems no good reason why this should be so, or why the works of authors who enjoy a reputation in their own country should not be also made known to English readers, and connected passages be so pieced together as to form a continuous whole. The aim of the editors of the following Episodes has been to select works distinguished for their interesting subject-matter, variety of style, and general popularity in their own country, and to connect the passages in such a manner that the interest may be sustained throughout.

The text of each volume will be made the theme of suitable notes explanatory of the allusions, and containing practicable information on the idioms, structure, and derivation of the language; and each work will be entrusted to an editor of sound practical experience in teaching.

Observations of Certain Mutual Changes common to all Kinds of Matter. V. Observations of Certain Mutual Changes Exhibited by Certain Kinds of Matter. VI. Observations which lead to the theory that all Matter is made up of very small Separate Particles. VII. Investigation of the Composition of the Various Kinds of Matter. VIII. Observations which lead to the theory that Space is filled with a Medium, the Ether, by means of which certain modes of motion are conveyed from one portion of Matter to another —Appendix.

"The observations described in the following pages form an introduction to all branches of Natural Science. The elementary nature of the book has caused me to pay more attention to method than to anything else. Every student will need to follow closely and thoughtfully the performance of each experiment, in nearly all cases making his own observations and measurements, since in this way the capacity for independent judgment and an interest in original research will be awakened at the earliest stages. . . . An effort has been made to arrange a course which shall touch upon the chief problems, and point out the main lines of investigation in Natural Science, in preference to an attempt at explaining any one branch in detail. At the same time it is hoped that the course may give something of a training in that habit of directly appealing to nature which is the root of all scientific progress."—Extract from Preface.

This work will serve as a suitable text-book for any class beginning the study of physics. The leading facts are brought under the notice of the student by easy experiments that do not demand expensive apparatus. Full instructions are given for the construction of the apparatus, in the text, or in the appendix. The author believes that in early lessons it is inadvisable to trouble the student, either with theories, or with the generalizations that prove such a valuable aid to the advanced student.

"It should take high rank, and come into wide use among our schools."—Education, Boston.

"This book possesses considerable merit. The matter contained in it is just about as much as would cover the course usually taken in a year's school work; the explanatory text is couched in the clearest language, and the experiments described are capable of being easily brought to a successful termination. . . . The book compares most favorably with any written for the purpose of imparting a rudimentary knowledge of magnetic and electrical phenomena."—Nature.

"The treatment is simple and clear, and the experiments given are admirably chosen; by their aid the subject is logically developed, and they are such as can be performed with very simple apparatus. . . . Altogether, this is one of the best primary books on Physics that we have seen."—Critic, New York.

WORKS ON GEOGRAPHY

Published by LONGMANS, GREEN, & CO.

LONGMANS' SCHOOL GEOGRAPHY.

By GEORGE G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc., Fellow of the Royal Geographical and Statistical Societies, and C. H. LEETE, A.M., Ph.D., Fellow of the American Geographical Society. Third Edition. Revised. With an Introduction on Mathematical and Physical Geography and about 70 Illustrations. Large 12mo, 384 pages, $1.25.

 In Longmans' School Geography an attempt is made at a new departure in the teaching of geography by providing a text-book which is founded on the results and methods, following from the great advance which has taken place in Geographical Science and Teaching on the Continent, and especially in Germany. One aim of the authors has been to distinguish between what is indispensable as a groundwork, and what it is better to neglect if the student is to be really educated instead of perplexed, and therefore to exclude from the book almost all details which pupils cannot be expected to keep permanently in mind; taking care, however, that what the book does contain should be really foundational—should consist of what is most effective as discipline, most important to know.

"The closing paragraph of the prospectus is much closer to the opinion of the reviewer than such paragraphs usually are: 'This text-book adapts itself to pupils of intelligence, and will be highly appreciated by all teachers imbued with a spirit for teaching real geography, not attempting to supersede their functions by dictating the length of their daily tasks or the questions that shall be asked, but furnishing a body of material so selected, arranged, and presented, that its perusal is at once pleasurable, suggestive, and of substantial value.' This is perfectly true. . . . On the whole the book is remarkably successful."—NATION.

QUESTIONS BASED ON LONGMANS' SCHOOL GEOGRAPHY.

By G. G. CHISHOLM, M.A., and C. H. LEETE, A.M., Ph.D. Large 12mo, 40 cents.

 These questions are not intended to be exhaustive of the text-book on which they are based. To have attempted that would have been to encroach too much on the province of the teacher. Their objective point is to develop the thinking powers of pupils, and it is hoped that teachers generally will find them a valuable aid in their work to that end.

LONGMANS' NEW SCHOOL ATLAS.

Consisting of 28 quarto and 10 octavo colored Maps, with 20 Insets. Edited by G. G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc., and C. H. LEETE, A.M., Ph.D. Engraved by EDWARD STANFORD. With a very full Index of Names. Imperial octavo, $1.50.

 Longmans' New School Atlas offers a series of maps which it is believed will be found fully adequate for the most advanced school work, affording the material for careful and prolonged study and a basis for a broad knowledge of geographic principles and facts. A prospectus describing the Atlas with a Specimen Map may be had on application to the publishers.

 The above three books are intended to form the basis for geography study in schools where more than elementary work is done. The books relate to one another, the maps of the Atlas and the topics of the text-book corresponding to each other, while the questions form a guide to both map and textual study. A general prospectus giving fuller particulars of the plan and scope of the series may be had on application to the publishers.

LONGMANS' NEW ATLAS. Political and Physical.

Consisting of 39 quarto and 14 octavo colored Maps and Diagrams, besides Insets. Edited by G. G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc., and C. H. LEETE, A.M., Ph.D. Engraved by EDWARD STANFORD. With a very full Index of Names. Imperial octavo or Imperial quarto, half bound, $3.00.

COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY.

HAND-BOOK OF COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY. By GEORGE G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc., etc., etc. Octavo, about 520 pages, $4.00.

"No better text-book of the subject could be had. Taking the book as a whole, probably no Hand-book of Commercial Geography in any language is equal to it."—PROCEEDINGS OF THE ROYAL GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY.

SCHOOL TEXT-BOOK OF COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY. By G. G. CHISHOLM, M.A., B.Sc., etc. 12mo, 216 pages, 90 cents.

 This book is in the main an abridgment of the author's Hand-book of Commercial Geography. In making the abridgment, endeavor has been made to retain as much as possible of the matter that seemed fitted to present the leading facts of international commerce in such a way as to impress the memory. The description of countries is confined to features of importance in relation to commerce.

LONGMANS' DOLLAR NOVELS.

SWEETHEART GWEN. A Welsh Idyll.

By WILLIAM TIREBUCK, Author of "Dorrie," "St. Margaret," etc. Cloth, ornamental, $1.00.

"It is an idyll, a lovely one, conceived by some one whose childhood has been happily impressed on him. . . . The reader lives amid the pastures and the orchards of Ty-Cremed, and eats the brown bread and drinks the milk there, and Auntie Gwen, with her white teeth, cracks filberts for him. This sweet, impulsive woman, with her blue eyes and her russet hair, bewitches you, as she does her little nephew, Martin. Mr. Tirebuck's literary faculties are of an exceptional kind. Those who love to read of child life will find here a perfect picture. There is, however, much more than this. . . . "—N. Y. TIMES.

Represents the very latest and best ideas of teaching Penmanship in the Public Schools. This series is now used in various parts of the country in towns and cities whose population aggregates over 4,000,000 inhabitants. It is free from all technicality, and substitutes practical common sense for impractical theory. The copies are plain and beautiful, and the words are simple, and similar in grade to those used in other studies, thereby giving combinations of letters which are natural, because of their frequent use. The grading is the best yet presented by any author. The engraving, ruling and paper are excellent. Each book has a blotter attached to the cover, which can be shut into the book. They are reversible; that is, may be folded back so as to expose but one page, and occupy but half the usual amount of desk space, and still afford a flat surface to write upon.

Fatherland Books. Translated from the German, and among the best Sunday-school Library Books published.

The genuine religious sentiment, the touching pathos, the heartsomeness, as well as the dramatic interest of these stories of Hoffman, of Horn, and of kindred writers, are well known to the German reader; and we trust by our translation to make German thought better known to the youthful English reader, whom we hope to familiarize with scenes and incidents of the Fatherland.

PUBLICATIONS

A. C. McCLURG AND COMPANY,

CHICAGO.

ABBOTT. Alexia. By Mary Abbott. 12mo, 177 pages, 75 cents.

As a piece of exquisite literary art, this little book deserves the attention of those who can appreciate what is unsophisticated in fiction. — The Beacon, Boston.

ABBOTT. The Beverleys. A Story of Calcutta. By Mary Abbott. 12mo, 264 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

"The Beverleys" is one of the notable novels of the year. . . . The writer knows life, and has met people of breeding. . . . In Eileen she draws a charming creature whose social adventures in Calcutta will be read with unflagging interest. — The Philadelphia Press.

ADAMS. The Story of Jane Austen's Life. By Oscar Fay Adams. With portrait of Miss Austen, 12mo, 277 pages, $1.25.

Mr. Adams's book is a distinct addition to biographical literature; it brings before us, not the traditional Jane Austen, but a bright, vivacious, charming woman, unselfish, kindly, warm-hearted, and devoted in all the relations of life; a healthy, unspoiled, and thoroughly attractive English girl. — The Christian Union, New York.

On the whole the "Story" is admirably told, and gives a more vivid picture than we have yet seen of a woman who must have been every whit as lovable as her own Anne Elliot, and as lively as Elizabeth Bennet. — The Spectator, London.

ARNOLD. The Life of Abraham Lincoln. By the Hon. Isaac N. Arnold. With an Introduction by the Hon. E. B. Washburne. Steel portrait. Sixth edition. 8vo, 471 pages, $1.50; half calf or half morocco, gilt top, $3.50.

It is the only Life of Lincoln thus far published that is likely to live, — the only one that has any serious pretensions to depict him with adequate veracity, completeness, and dignity. — The Sun, New York.

It is sure to be considered henceforth as an authority, not only upon the character and career of Lincoln, but upon the history of the period to which it is devoted. The Critic, New York.

ARNOLD. The Life of Benedict Arnold. His Patriotism and his Treason. By the Hon. Isaac N. Arnold. With steel portrait. 8vo, 444 pages, gilt top, $2.50.

Mr. Arnold has accomplished his task wonderfully well. There is a striking absence of personal bias; and if he has succeeded in removing some of the blots upon the character of Benedict Arnold, the impartial reader cannot but think that he is justified, and respect him for his denunciation of treason, while he mentions that the traitor was a man, and possessed at one time of a noble character. The book is notable for the range of historical information displayed. — The Traveller, Boston.

BACON. The Essays or Counsels, Civil and Moral, of Francis Bacon, Viscount St. Albans, Baron Verulam. Fourth thousand. Edited, with an Introduction and Notes, by Prof. Melville B. Anderson. Finely printed and bound. 16mo, 275 pages, gilt top, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, $2.75; limp morocco, gilt edges, $3.00.

This is the only edition of Bacon I have ever seen which looks as though one would take pleasure in reading it through at a single sitting. No other would be likely to appeal so strongly to the person of literary proclivities and refined taste who reads merely for the pleasure it yields, or to acquire certain general notions of an author, his style, and times. . . . It is, and it is likely for some time to remain, the reader's handy edition. — Prof. Albert S. Cook, of Yale University, in The Dial.

BACON. "Thoughts that Breathe and Words that Burn," from the Writings of Francis Bacon. See Elizabethan Library, page 9.

BALCH. The Bridge of the Gods. A Romance of Indian Oregon. By F. H. Balch. 12mo, 280 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

The author is undoubtedly a literary artist of a high order. In the construction of the plot, in the description of scenery and character, in the analysis of motives, in the handling of the dramatic scenes, and in the use of historical material, he evinces great ability. . . . The story is not only pure in tone, but instructive, and teaches a noble lesson of self-sacrifice. — The School Journal, New York.

BALDWIN. The Book-Lover: A Guide to the Best Reading. By James Baldwin, Ph.D. Tenth edition. 16mo, gilt top, 222 pages, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, $2.75; limp morocco, gilt edges, $3.00.

This is a delightful little book, and amply justifies both of its titles. The author writes in an entertaining and chatty style, not undignified by any means, and shows a thorough familiarity with the treasures of literature. His advice is practical, and adapted to the needs of his probable readers; while his pages are adorned with choice bits of prose and verse culled with excellent taste from the best writers. The Examiner, New York.

BARINE. Bernardin de St. Pierre. A Biography. By Arvède Barine. With a Preface by Augustin Birrell. See The Great French Writers, page 10.

BAZAN. Russia: Its People and its Literature. From the Spanish of Emilia Pardo Bazan, by Fanny H. Gardiner. 12mo, 293 pages, $1.25.

It is acute in analysis, broad and sagacious in reasoning, appreciative of the peculiar qualities of Russian character, and remarkable for a penetration and aptness of expression in literary criticism which are rare in the case of critics of a nationality different from that of the author considered. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

BIART. The Aztecs: Their History, Manners, and Customs. By Lucien Biart. Authorized translation from the French by J. L. Garner. Third Thousand. Illustrated, 8vo, $2.00; half calf, $4.25; half morocco, $4.50.

M. Biart is the most competent authority living on the subject of the Aztecs. He spent many years in Mexico, studied his subject carefully through all means of information, and wrote his book from the view-point of a scientist. The style is very attractive, and it has been very successfully translated. — The Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

BIGOT. A Foreign Match. By Madame Bigot (Mary Healy). 16mo, 246 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

Few stories of the experience of vulgar American families abroad have been better managed in fiction than this. The people are much like those which Mr. Henry James has carried through many books. . . . The secondary characters are well managed, and the reader is made to understand throughout how despicable is the common person made suddenly rich. — The New York Herald.

BLADES. The Pentateuch of Printing: With a Chapter on Judges. By William Blades, author of "The Life and Typography of William Caxton," "The Enemies of Books," etc. With a Memoir of the Author and a List of His Works, by Talbot B. Reed. Fully illustrated. Crown 4to, cloth, $4.50 net; half roxburgh, gilt top, $5.50 net.

The work before us is highly interesting, not only to the printing world, but to all who watch the progress of civilization. Here we begin with an Assyrian tablet, and wind up with the latest improvement used by a daily newspaper. The charm of the volume is greatly enhanced by the excellent illustrations. — The Daily Telegraph, London.

LARGE-PAPER EDITION limited to 50 copies for America, half roxburgh, gilt top, $13.50 net. (But few left.)

BOISSIER. Madame De Sévigné. A Biography. By Gaston Boissier. See The Great French Writers, page 10.

BOUVET. Sweet William. By Marguerite Bouvet. Illustrated by Helen and Margaret Armstrong. Eleventh thousand. Small 4to, $1.50.

It is told with a grace of style that has not been surpassed in any of the juvenile fiction of the year. "Sweet William" is a charming little figure. The author has given her story a marked individuality that must ensure its wide popularity. — The Boston Advertiser.

The whole story is beautifully told, in somewhat the simple and pathetic style which made Mrs. Burnett's story of a loving little child's heart so popular. — The Epoch, New York.

BOUVET. Little Marjorie's Love Story. By Marguerite Bouvet. With 16 illustrations by Helen Maitland Armstrong. Fifth thousand. Small 4to, 124 pages, $1.00.

The story is charmingly told. . . . The opening description of Little Marjorie gives evidence of the writer's style, — the crisp, telling manner which fixes the person or thing described as no other way can. It is enough to read just those few words to see the strong character whose love gives title to the story, and the grace of words with which the author is certainly gifted. — The Boston Times.

BOUVET. Prince Tip Top. A Fairy Tale. By MARGUERITE BOUVET. With numerous illustrations by Helen M. Armstrong. Fourth thousand. Small 4to, $1.00.

The general interest now shown in woman's work will attract special attention to this life of a noble woman who enjoys the signal distinction of being the only woman ever raised to the peerage of England in recognition of her life and deeds. Through her large benefactions and wise and unobtrusive philanthropy she is known the world over.

BURT. A History of Modern Philosophy (From the Renaissance to the Present). By B. C. BURT, A.M. 2 vols., crown 8vo, $4.00.

Admirable in form for the order, clearness, and compactness of presentation. For the rapid reader who cannot study philosophy at first hand, there is no book in the English language which would put him so quickly at the right point of view in order to see the meaning of systems and their relation to one another. The plan is so clear and the right information is so succinctly given that one gets a bird's-eye view with little effort. . . . It is particularly to be recommended to those readers who, having the works of some one philosopher, embrace his system with ardor, in entire ignorance of the fact that it is only one among many which may claim his attention and challenge his thought. — The Christian Register, Boston.

This is one of the best pieces of biographical work that have fallen under our eye during the present year. The author exhibits a thorough acquaintance with the history of the age in which the great Italian reformer's life was spent. All the information contained in the pages of the most trustworthy authorities has been critically examined, sifted, and condensed into this work. . . . The book is written in terse, forceful, and perfectly lucid English, the style of the author is strikingly vivid, and the reader obtains from the volume a very satisfactory conception of Savonarola's aims, deeds, and influence. — Public Opinion, Washington.

Here indeed is "a box where sweets compacted lie," a real pocket-companion, a vinaigrette for the soul. — The Daily Chronicle, London.

Choice Passages from the Writings of Sir Walter Raleigh: Being a small Sheaf of Gleanings from a Golden Harvest. By Alexander B. Grosart. With portrait.

This volume is an endeavor to bring together representative quotations from Raleigh, whereby to illustrate his distinction of style, the stately march of his sentences, his cultured allusiveness, and the lights and shadows of his many-sided and splendid career.

A Bower of Delights: Being Interwoven Verse and Prose from the Works of Nicholas Breton. The Weaver: Alexander B. Grosart. With an Introduction on his Life and the Characteristics of his Writings.

Breton has many a thought well expressed in melodious metre, and many a pretty image and delicate verse to make him amply worth the reading; and his prose is delightful in its freshness and pointed neatness. — St. James's Gazette, London.

"Thoughts that Breathe and Words that Burn," from the Writings of Francis Bacon. Selected by Alexander B. Grosart. With portrait.

The very suggestive title of this book indicates in some measure the richness of its contents. The selections are what Bacon hoped his Essays might be, — "grains of salt that will rather give an appetite than offend with satiety."

FARRAR. Eric; or, Little by Little. A Tale of Roslyn School. By Frederic W. Farrar, D.D., F.R.S., Canon of Westminster, etc. New Illustrated Edition. With 78 original designs by Gordon Browne. 12mo, 368 pages, gilt edges, $2.00.

The same wholesome, vigorous, manly spirit which has so firmly intrenched "Tom Brown at Rugby" in the heart of every real boy has made "Eric" second only to that popular work. The illustrations are an exceedingly attractive addition to the text.

FAY. Music-Study in Germany. By Amy Fay. 12mo, $1.25.

The intrinsic value of the work is great. Its simplicity, its minute details, its freedom from every kind of affectation, constitute in themselves most admirable qualities. The remarkably intimate and open picture we get of Liszt surpasses any heretofore afforded. It is a charming picture, — strong, simple, gracious, noble, and sincere. — The Chicago Times.

FIELD. Echoes from the Sabine Farm. Being Certain Horatian Lyrics done into English by Eugene and Roswell M. Field. With seventy-four little picturings by Edmund H. Garrett. Large-paper Edition, limited to 500 numbered copies. Royal 8vo, 149 pages, gilt top, $5.00 net.

It is perhaps needless to say that these translations are quite free from pedantry and mere literalness; and that while some of the lyrics are singularly perfect reproductions of the originals, others are free adaptations to the spirit, the forms, and the speech of to-day. In them the poet boldly interprets the poet. — The Evening Transcript, Boston.

FILON. Garrick's Pupil, 1780. By Augustin Filon. Translated by J. V. Pritchard. Illustrated.

Lovers of historical fiction have a rich treat before them in the perusal of this story, which is a faithful and brilliant study of London life in the latter half of the eighteenth century. The plot is exceptionally strong, and some of the scenes will quicken the pulse of the most blasé novel-reader. These are not the only merits of the book, however. The times of Reynolds, of Garrick, of Johnson, and of Burke have been carefully studied and skilfully reproduced. The virtues, vices, and follies of that age have seldom been more strongly presented than here; while with a fine historic sense, which never deserts him, the author has succeeded in conveying a true idea of the social and political forces that fermented in the society of London during that remarkable period.

Victor Cousin. By Jules Simon, of the French Academy. Translated by Professors M. B. Anderson and E. P. Anderson.

Jules Simon has accomplished his work as biographer with fidelity and success, and the little volume that comes from his hand will probably be the standard memoir of the eminent French philosopher. — The Home Journal, New York.

Turgot. By Leon Say, of the French Academy. Translated by Prof. M. B. Anderson.

This is one of the best volumes in a notable series. A skilful biographer could not ask for a better subject; and in this instance the subject is handled with extraordinary grace of sympathy and touch. — The Press, Philadelphia.

GRISWOLD. Home-Life of Great Authors. By Hattie Tyng Griswold. 12mo, $1.50; half calf or half morocco, gilt top, $3.50.

This is a very charming book. . . . Mrs. Griswold has a very happy faculty of weaving literary illustrations from the different authors into her descriptions of their domestic lives. She has made a book about the home life of great authors that will be sure to make the home life of many who are not authors somewhat more sweet and glad. — The Christian Register, Boston.

GUNSAULUS. Monk and Knight: An Historical Study in Fiction. By Frank W. Gunsaulus. 2 vols., crown 8vo, $2.50.

Let no one attempt to read "Monk and Knight" at a sitting. That way madness lies. Take time. Pick it up at leisure moments, keeping the thread in the memory. Treat it as the author apparently means it, — less as a novel than as a vehicle for a mind full of the times and the ideas of the times. . . . It is more stirring than any history. There is no novel dealing with the dawn of the Reformation which gives us a succession of such splendid pictures. — The Sun, Baltimore.

GUNSAULUS. Phidias, and Other Poems. By Frank W. Gunsaulus. Large 12mo, 89 pages, gilt top, white and gold, with silk slip cover, in box, $1.25; 16mo, cloth, 75 cents.

For the two brief memorial papers alone the volume would be a very valuable treasure; but as followed by this noble series of sermons it is indeed a possession for all well-endowed libraries. — The Churchman, New York.

HOLMES AND STEVENSON. Pictures from Nature and Life. Poems. By Kate Raworth Holmes. Illustrated by Helen E. Stevenson. (In press.)

The holiday season will scarcely furnish a more attractive gift-book than this, in which the delicate sentiment of the verse is matched by the beauty of the letterpress and the illustrations. The opening poem, "One Fair Day," is one of those delightful, sunshiny reminiscences whose romance, sung in musical numbers, haunts the memory like a chapter from one's own experience. Reader, you have loved — or imagined — just such a sweetheart, or such a lover. The bright fulfilment of that "fair day" is told in the poem entitled "The Bride," until "the old story" ceases to be told. Books like this will have no lack of readers.

HUDSON. The Law of Psychic Phenomena. A Working Hypothesis for the Systematic Study of Hypnotism, Spiritism, Mental Therapeutics, etc. By Thomson Jay Hudson. 12mo, 409 pages, $1.50.

It is an eminently thoughtful book, showing deep and earnest study, wide and careful reading, and profound reflection; and may, on the whole, be considered a new philosophy of the human mind. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

There cannot be too many books, so honest, so faithful to a point of view, so elevated and just in tone, so strong and able and comprehensive in reasoning, as this one is. It is the most far-sighted and complete work yet issued on the subject. — Public Opinion, Washington.

He has made an important contribution to the literature of this great subject. It is a profound, comprehensive, and cautious study of hypnotism and kindred themes. . . . Throughout Mr. Hudson is discreet, candid, and reverent. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

HUGO. William Shakespeare. Translated from the French of Victor Hugo, by Prof. Melville B. Anderson, M. A. 8vo, 424 pages, gilt top, $2.00; half calf or half morocco, gilt top, $4.00.

This volume is much more than a study of Shakespeare. All history, all theology, and all philosophy are grasped and handled with Titanic force, the Bard of Avon furnishing the text, or as we should say, the pretext, for magnificent speculation. Why has this great work of Hugo's never before been anglicized? — The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

There is hardly a question of life or art that is not considered in this book by the colossal genius who has written it. American literature will forever be indebted to Mr. Anderson for a translation so accurate, so fine, so scholarly, and so sympathetic in spirit. — The Traveller, Boston.

HYDE. How Do You Spell It? or, Words as they Look. A book for Busy People. With an Appendix Defining many Commercial and Business Terms in Every-Day use. By W. T. C. Hyde. 12mo, 342 pages, $1.00.

Mr. Hyde has aimed to prepare a book containing all words likely to be misspelled, arranged alphabetically, and with the letters in which the error usually occurs emphasized to the eye by being printed in bold-faced type. . . . He has done thoroughly and lucidly a work which was eminently worth the doing, and has based it on a sound and correct principle. — The Commercial Advertiser, New York.

IRONQUILL. Some Rhymes of Ironquill of Kansas. 12mo. $1.00.

The man who wrote these verses has "a way of putting things" when he finds things worth the putting; he writes with shrewdness, brevity, humor, and point, yet in an offhand, homely style that will please critical readers, and attract the many others who can't be persuaded to read verse at all unless there is something odd about it. — JOHN HABBERTON, in Godey's Magazine.

JACKSON. A Winter Holiday in Summer Lands. By Julia Newell Jackson. Illustrated. 16mo, 221 pages, $1.00.

The story is so simply and unpretendingly told that we feel as if we had met a pleasant acquaintance who had entertained us admirably for an afternoon. — The American, Philadelphia.

JÆGER. Henrik Ibsen, 1828–1888: A Critical Biography. By Henrik Jæger. Translated from the Norwegian by William Morton Payne. Illustrated. Crown 8vo, 275 pages, gilt top, $1.50.

It is the only full biography of the author which we have in English, and makes any other unnecessary. It conveys every bit of needed information in acceptable form. — Public Opinion, Washington.

JOHNSON. Rasselas, Prince of Abyssinia. By Samuel Johnson. See Laurel-Crowned Tales, page 16.

JORDAN. A Manual of the Vertebrate Animals of the Northern United States, including the District north and east of the Ozark Mountains, south of the Laurentian Hills, north of the southern boundary of Virginia, and east of the Missouri River, inclusive of Marine Species. By David Starr Jordan, President of the Leland Stanford, Jr., University. Large 12mo, 375 pages, $2.50. The trade discount on this book is limited.

We are satisfied that it has taken a permanent place in the educational literature of zoölogy in America, as the standard text-book of vertebrates. . . . The experiences of all naturalists combined have thus far hit upon no better plan for teaching than Professor Jordan applies with success in his modest little volume. The system is as near the "royal road" to learning as has ever been devised. — Dr. Elliott Coues, in The Dial.

JULIAN. The Life of Joshua R. Giddings. By George W. Julian. With an appendix, containing the Essays of Pacificus (Giddings), two portraits, and a complete index. 8vo, 473 pages, gilt top, $2.50; half morocco, gilt top, $5.00.

Joshua R. Giddings was one of those giants in formulating opinion that has made the country the foremost upon the earth. . . . The book is one for all young Americans to read, for it will teach them what a boy, no matter how poor, who is determined to do right, can accomplish in a country like ours. — The Evening Telegram, New York.

JULIAN. Political Recollections, from 1840 to 1872. By the Hon. George W. Julian. 12mo, 384 pages, $1.50.

Like Wraxall's "Historical Memoirs," this book infuses dry details with a personal interest, a biographical charm, which makes it by far the most attractive account of the anti-slavery reform that we have yet seen. — The Boston Transcript.

KEBLE-LIDDON. The Christian Year. By the Rev. John Keble. The St. Paul's Edition. With the Collects and a Series of Meditations and Exhortations selected from the works of the Rev. H. P. Liddon, D.D., D.C.L. Large 12mo, 453 pages, $1.50.

Miss Kirkland is known by her two capital short histories of England and France, and other practical, well-written books. But we are inclined to call this her optimum opus. — The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

KIRKLAND. A Short History of England for Young People. By Elizabeth S. Kirkland. 12mo, 415 pages, $1.25.

We have seldom seen a more admirably conceived and executed work than this. . . . Nothing seems to have been forgotten, nothing overdone. . . . Taken as a whole we have little but praise to bestow upon this book.—The American Bookseller.

KIRKLAND. A Short History of France for Young People. By Elizabeth S. Kirkland. 12mo, 398 pages, $1.25.

Miss Kirkland has composed her "Short History of France" in the way in which a history for young people ought to be written; that is, she has aimed to present a consecutive and agreeable story, from which the reader can not only learn the names of kings and the succession of events, but can also receive a vivid impression as to the character, modes of life, and the spirit of different periods.— The Nation, N.Y.

KIRKLAND. Six Little Cooks; or, Aunt Jane's Cooking Class. By Elizabeth S. Kirkland. 12mo, 236 pages, 75 cents.

KIRKLAND. Speech and Manners for Home and School. By Elizabeth S. Kirkland. 12mo, 263 pages, 75 cents.

LATIMER. France in the Nineteenth Century, 1830–1890. By Elizabeth Wormeley Latimer. Beautifully illustrated with twenty-two full-page, half tone portraits. 8vo, 450 pages, $2.50.

The story of "France in the Nineteenth Century" as told by Mrs. Latimer is as absorbing as a work of fiction. Indeed, for rapid changes of front, for picturesque situations, remarkable vacillation of public opinion, no period of European history is more remarkable than this. . . . For telling situations and for startling effects she certainly does not lack. . . . She is always picturesque. In her analysis of character she displays a thorough mastery of her subject. . . . Mrs. Latimer has written an extremely interesting book, which will be read with eagerness. — The Daily Advertiser, Boston.

LATIMER. Russia and Turkey in the Nineteenth Century. By Elizabeth Wormeley Latimer. Fully and handsomely illustrated. (In press.)

A most interesting work, which admirably supplements Mrs. Latimer's successful "France in the Nineteenth Century." It gives as historically correct in every particular, and giving in Mrs. Latimer's very attractive style a detailed account of all the important events from the time of Alexander I. to the present, together with an analysis of the forms of government of the two countries, descriptions of the different Czars and Sultans, their characters and peculiarities, and the reforms attempted or instituted by each. The work is exceedingly opportune, coming as it does just when the attention of all the civilized world is attracted to the exile system of Russia, the expulsion of the Jews, and the ever increasing hostility of the Turks to everything Christian, — the antagonism of the Crescent to the Cross.

The Best Letters of Lady Mary Wortley Montagu. Edited, with a Dedicatory Letter, by Octave Thanet.

The Best Letters of Charles Lamb. Edited, with an Introduction, by Edward Gilpin Johnson.

The editor has aimed to include those letters which exhibit most fully Lamb's distinctive charm and quality; and the result is a volume of convenient size, containing ample material for the reader to spell out the power and loveableness of Lamb's nature, even if all other helps toward such understanding were wanting. — The Christian Register, Boston.

The Best Letters of Percy Bysshe Shelley. Edited, with an Introduction, by Shirley Carter Hughson.

The Best Letters of William Cowper. Edited, with an Introduction, by Anna Benneson McMahan.

Cowper might be called, with little exaggeration, the prince of letter-writers, so elegant and classic are his epistles. Apart from their literary charm, these letters give a more satisfactory picture of the man than any "Life" of him that has yet been written. — The Daily Advertiser, Boston.

LAUREL-CROWNED VERSE.

Edited by FRANCIS F. BROWNE. 16mo, cloth, gilt top, per volume, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, per volume, $2.50. The seven volumes, in neat box, per set, $7.00; in half calf or half morocco, $17.50.

All the volumes of this series are from a specially prepared and corrected text, based upon a careful collation of all the more authentic editions.

The special merit of these editions, aside from the graceful form of the books, lies in the editor's reserve. Whenever the author has provided a preface or notes, this apparatus is given, and thus some interesting matter is revived; but the editor himself refrains from loading the books with his own writing.—The Atlantic Monthly.

The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott.

"The Lady of the Lake" appeared in 1809. . . . It took the world by storm. The public was unanimous in its favor; the reviews vied with each other in celebrating this greatest poem of the age. — MRS. OLIPHANT, in The Literary History of England.

Childe Harold's Pilgrimage. A Romaunt. By Lord Byron.

Lalla Rookh. An Oriental Romance. By Thomas Moore.

Moore has shown, in the poetry selected for the "Irish Melodies," and more so in his celebrated "Lalla Rookh," how beautifully the feelings of a delicate passion can be conveyed in language of the most brilliant and powerful description. — Dibdin's Library Companion.

Idylls of the King. By Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

It is the epic of chivalry, the Christian ideal of chivalry which we have deduced from a barbaric source, — our conception of what knighthood should be, rather than what it really was; but so skilfully wrought of high imaginings, faery spells, fantastic legends, and mediæval splendors, that the whole work, suffused with the Tennysonian glamour of golden mist, seems like a chronicle illuminated by saintly hands. EDMUND CLARENCE STEDMAN.

Paradise Lost. By John Milton.

What phantasmagory more truly all-significant than this has the imagination of poet ever conceived? What expanse of space comparable to this for vastness has any other poet presumed to occupy with a coherent story? The physical universe of Dante's great poem would go into a nutshell as compared with that to which the imagination must stretch itself out in "Paradise Lost." Vastness of scene and power of story together, little wonder that the poem should have so impressed the world. — DAVID MASSON.

The Iliad of Homer. Translated by Alexander Pope. 2 vols.

Pope's translation of the Iliad occupies a position in literature which no other has ever approached. It is the one poem of the kind that has obtained a reputation beyond the limits of the country in the language of which it is written, and the only one that has fascinated the imagination of the unlearned. Many an English reader, to whom Greek was literally a dead language, has followed through it the action of the Iliad with a livelier interest than that of the "Faery Queen" or of "Paradise Lost." — W. I. COMTHOPE.

The selections are made with rare taste and judgment. They show a wide range of reading, and a wonderful knack of selecting the few pregnant words which convey the thought of an essay or a speech. . . . It is a book which readers should peruse and writers should study. — The Philadelphia Inquirer.

LOTI. An Iceland Fisherman. From the French of Pierre Loti. See Laurel-Crowned Tales, page 16.

This book is by far the best and most interesting account of the discovery of the Western world which has yet appeared. The author has not followed in the beaten track of his predecessors in this field of work, but has preferred to deal only with the accounts left by Columbus himself and those directly associated with him in his unique enterprise. . . . The book bids fair to rank as the standard popular account of the great Western voyage. — The Churchman, New York.

Among the many books upon this subject there is none that evinces more diligent care in its preparation, or more sincere love of the subject on the part of the author. — The Advertiser, Boston.

Mrs. Richardson handles the early English writings very judiciously. . . . Her estimates of the great writers are in the main just, and her selections from their works well chosen. — Commercial Advertiser, New York.

RICHARDSON. A Girdle Round the Earth. Home Letters from Foreign Lands. By the Hon. D. N. Richardson. 8vo, 449 pages, $2.00; half calf, $4.00; half morocco, $4.25.

This spicy narrative of a journey round the world does not contain a dull page. . . . To reluctant stay-at-homes the volume before us will be a delightful diversion. The Chronicle-Telegraph, Pittsburgh.

ROBERTS. Down the O-hi-o. By Charles Humphrey Roberts. 12mo, 313 pages, $1.00.

The reader must not make the mistake from the title, that this is a book of cheap jocularity. On the contrary, though a story in form, its real value is in a series of scenes, often felicitous and sometimes extremely spirited, of rural life, chiefly among Quakers, on the north bank of the Ohio in the period shortly before the war for the Union. — Atlantic Monthly.

ROCHE. The Children of the Abbey. By Regina Maria Roche. Finely printed and bound. 2 vols., 12mo, gilt tops, $2.00.

Other editions of this notable and popular book have been printed, but none so tastefully as this. . . . Of the book itself it may not be inopportune to say that it shows the author at his best. — The New York Herald.

SAINTE-BEUVE. Portraits of Men. By C. A. Sainte-Beuve. See Masterpieces of Foreign Authors, page 19.

SAINTE-BEUVE. Portraits of Women. By C. A. Sainte-Beuve. See Masterpieces of Foreign Authors, page 19.

SCHMID. The Theories of Darwin, and their Relation to Philosophy, Religion, and Morality. From the German of Rudolf Schmid, by G. A. Zimmermann, Ph.D. 12mo, 410 pages, $1.50.

We pronounce it the best and strongest discussion of the relations between science and religion now existing in an English dress. — The Christian Advocate, New York.

SCOTT. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott, Bart. See Laurel-Crowned Verse, page 16.

SEVEN DAYS AFTER THE HONEYMOON. By S. A. B. Small quarto, 52 pages, gilt edges, tied with cord, in a box, 50 cents.

On looking at it one anticipates plunging his soul in sentiment; on opening it one discovers a cook book. . . . The illustrations are apt and clever, the dinners have an appetizing look even in print, and as a gift book the little volume is a success at once practical, attractive, and suggestive. — The Boston Post.

SEELEY. The Spanish Galleon. Being an Account of a Search for Sunken Treasure in the Caribbean Sea. By Charles Sumner Seeley. 12mo, 290 pages, $1.00.

This story is one of the best of its kind ever printed. Its moral tone is excellent, the love episode is handled discreetly, and the reader will see the value of self-possession and energy. We commend it heartily to the boys. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

SEELEY. The Lost Canyon of the Toltecs: An Account of Strange Adventures in Central America. By Charles Sumner Seeley. (In press.)

A realistic story of adventure among the Cliff Dwellers of Central America. The interest of the reader is held unflaggingly from beginning to end by the variety of incidents and the vividness of the narrative. The readers of "The Spanish Galleon" will welcome this new book from the same author, and find it equally absorbing and told in the same easy style. Along with the account of thrilling adventures runs an exquisite love story that would of itself be sufficient to enchain the reader's attention from the first page to the last.

SHAW. The National Revenues: A Collection of Papers by American Economists. Edited by Albert Shaw, Ph.D. With an Introduction and an Appendix of Statistical Tables. 12mo, 245 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

In the range of its topics, and in the knowledge and ability brought to bear upon them, this little book is one of the most comprehensive on the subject of the national revenue. — The Christian Register, Boston.

SHELLEY. The Best Letters of Percy Bysshe Shelley. See Laurel-Crowned Letters, page 15.

SHEPPARD. Charles Auchester. By Elizabeth Sheppard. With an Introduction and Notes by George P. Upton, author of Upton's Handbooks on Music. Two portraits of Mendelssohn. 2 vols., gilt tops, $2.50.

We need hardly remind any one that the story was written as a memorial to Mendelssohn, the composer, and is a remarkable story merely as such, while it also is a classic among students and interpreters of music. This is a particularly neat and tasteful edition, and Mr. Upton, the editor, is an eminent musical expert. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

SHEPPARD. Counterparts. By Elizabeth Sheppard. With an Introduction and Notes by George P. Upton. With portraits. 2 vols., 12mo, gilt tops, $2.50.

The story, on its first appearance, nearly forty years ago, made a great sensation and achieved a remarkable popularity. Its merits are marked and brilliant, and the story, despite its age, and the great change that fiction has undergone since it was written, remains a work that can still be read with interest and pleasure. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

SHEPPARD. Rumour. By Elizabeth Sheppard. With an Introduction and Notes by Harriet Prescott Spofford. With portraits. 2 vols., 12mo, gilt tops, $2.50.

"Rumour" was the last of Miss Sheppard's three most popular romances, its immediate predecessors being "Counterparts" and "Charles Auchester." Apart from the intrinsic merits of the story, it derives especial interest from the fact that Beethoven stands as the model of one of its characters, just as Mendelssohn was portrayed in "Charles Auchester." Those who have read the other two works of this attractive young genius will be sure to welcome "Rumour." The entire series, "Charles Auchester," "Counterparts," and "Rumour," stand alone as romances suffused with the spirit of music and largely concerned with the lives of the musicians.

SIDNEY. A Cabinet of Gems. Cut and polished by Sir Philip Sidney. See Elizabethan Library, page 8.

SIMON. Victor Cousin. By Jules Simon, of the French Academy. See The Great French Writers, page 10.

SMITH. William I. and the German Empire. A Biographical and Historical Sketch. By G. Barnett Smith. 8vo, 355 pages, $2.00.

Bishop Spalding has struck a note which must vibrate in every heart which loves the glory of Christianity and the progress of humanity. . . . "Education and the Higher Life" is a stimulant, a tonic, a trumpet-call to higher things, a beacon light for better days. — The Catholic Union and Times.

STARRETT. Letters to a Daughter. By Helen Ekin Starrett. New and enlarged edition, with portrait. 16mo, 148 pages, 75 cents.

They are written with charming simplicity of style, and form an excellent guide, to be studied earnestly by every young girl who would be dignified in manner and refined in her bearing toward others. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

STARRETT. Letters to Elder Daughters, Married and Unmarried. By Helen Ekin Starrett. 16mo, 165 pages, 75 cents.

The author has brought thoughtfulness, practical discernment, and wide knowledge to the consideration of problems that relate to the home and to the home-keeper. . . . There is a large amount of experience, and a still larger amount of common-sense and wholesome suggestion, in these healthful pages.—The Christian Register, Boston.

STARRETT–ALLISON. The Future of Educated Women, by Mrs. Helen Ekin Starrett; and Men, Women, and Money, by Mrs. Frances Ekin Allison. 16mo, 75 pages, 50 cents.

The two essays deal intelligently and practically with the great question of employment for women, the care of property, etc. They are eminently sensible and helpful in their general suggestions, and will do real good. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

STEVENS. How Men Propose: The Fateful Question and its Answer. Love-Scenes from the Popular and the Classic Works of Fiction. Collected by Agnes Stevens. 12mo, 343 pages, $1.25.

Since "all the world loves a lover," this book ought to find many interested readers. The range of its choice is wide, and includes nearly every modern writer of fiction. These are pleasant pages to turn over when one is in sympathy with humanity or feels that he fain would be so. — The New York Evangelist.

SWING. Club Essays. By Prof. David Swing. New and Enlarged Edition. 16mo, 266 pages, $1.00; half morocco, $3.00.

This little volume is welcome. It is cheerful reading. Its smooth-flowing sentences carry you along from page to page without fatigue or weariness. There are no unfathomable depths of thought to be sounded only with the plummet of imagination. All is clear, unobstructed sailing. — The Chicago Tribune.

SWING. Motives of Life. By Prof. David Swing. New and Enlarged Edition. 16mo, 239 pages, $1.00; half morocco, $3.00.

There are passages that linger in the memory and come to mind amid every-day cares and needs, bringing help and encouragement; others again that are stirring incentives toward higher self-culture and development. . . . The value of this little book is inestimable. — The Home Journal, New York.

SWING. Sermons. By Prof. David Swing. 12mo, 307 pages, $1.50.

The best possible review of Professor Swing's books would be one composed entirely of extracts from their pages. Emerson himself is scarcely a more quotable writer. Epigrams and aphorisms follow each other with marvellous plentitude. — The Chicago Tribune.

SWISSHELM. Half a Century. By Jane Gray Swisshelm. $1.50.

The most amusing, provoking, inspiring production of many a long day, which having once begun, you will not lay down until the last chapter and page are finished. And having finished it, you exclaim: "What a wonderful life! What a wonderful woman!" — The Christian Register, Boston.

TALES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

16mo, gilt tops, per volume, $1.00. The six volumes in neat box, per set, $6.00; in half calf or half morocco, gilt tops, $13.50; in half calf or half morocco, gilt edges, $15.00; limp, calf or morocco, gilt edges, $18.00.

Memories. A Story of German Love. Translated from the German of Max Müller by George P. Upton.

The touching story of "German Love," whose tender pathos lacks only the harmonies of verse to make it one of the most exquisite poems in the German language, is here reproduced in an English costume of chaste and delicate beauty. — The New York Tribune.

Graziella. A Story of Italian Love. Translated from the French of A. De Lamartine, by James B. Runnion.

The purity, the sadness, and the gentleness of the tale leave an impression upon the mind of having listened to a strain of sweet music. The literary style is faultless in its grace. — The Christian-at-Work, New York.

Marie. A Story of Russian Love. From the Russian of Alexander Pushkin, by Marie H. De Zielinska.

The whole spirit and atmosphere of the story is fresh and bracing; and we promise the readers of the book a new treat. — The Independent, New York.

Madeleine. A Story of French Love (crowned by the French Academy). Translated from the French of Jules Sandeau by Francis Charlot.

Jules Sandeau's "Madeleine" is a love-story that approximates very closely to perfection. It is a theme of exceeding purity and beauty, treated by an artist whose style is as finished and delicate as it is firm, and whose French is a model of elegant simplicity. — The Philadelphia Times.

Marianela. A Story of Spanish Love. Translated from the Spanish of B. Perez Galdos by Helen W. Lester.

The story is attractive for its purity, sweetness, and pathos. It is worthy of its place in this rare collection of representative national classics. — The Evening Telegram, New York.

Cousin Phillis. A Story of English Love. By Mrs. Gaskell.

It is as pure and noble a love story as ever was written. It is a good one to put into the hands of young girls, for it refines and elevates their youthful ideals. — Public Opinion, Washington.

TAYLOR. Is Protection a Benefit? A Plea for the Negative. By Prof. Edward Taylor. 12mo, 274 pages, $1.00.

The book is certainly characterized by marked ability, by evidently careful study of the whole subject; and is written in a style so manly and bright that one will be sure to read it with pleasure. — The Standard, Chicago.

TAYLOR. With Edge Tools. By Hobart Chatfield Taylor. 12mo, 315 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

It is the cleverest society novel which has come out of the West. . . . Taken as a whole it is a far abler story than several of its kind that have been written in the East by more practised pens. — The New York Herald.

TENNYSON. Idylls of the King. By Alfred, Lord Tennyson. See Laurel-Crowned Verse, page 17.

THACKERAY. The English Humorists. 16mo, gilt top, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, $2.50; limp calf or morocco, $3.00.

These celebrated lectures, delivered by their author in England, Scotland, and America, and first published in 1853, have ever held a place in the front rank of English literature, and have won the admiration of all who have read them. This they do, not only because of their unaffected simplicity and naturalness, but also because they give an idea of the great English writers and humorists, such as Swift, Pope, Fielding, and Goldsmith, that can nowhere else be obtained.

THOMPSON. The Humbler Poets: A Collection of Newspaper and Periodical Verse. 1870 to 1885. By Slason Thompson. Crown 8vo, 459 pages, gilt top, $2.00; half calf or half morocco, $4.00.

The high poetic character of these poems as a whole is surprising. As a unit, the collection makes an impression which even a genius of the highest order would not be adequate to produce. . . . Measured by poetic richness, variety, and merit of the selections contained, the collection is a rarely good one, flavored with the freshness and aroma of the present time. — The Independent, New York.

THWAITES. Historic Waterways: Six Hundred Miles of Canoeing down the Rock, Fox, and Wisconsin Rivers. By Reuben Gold Thwaites, Secretary State Historical Society of Wisconsin. With two maps of the routes, and a table of distances. 12mo, 298 pages, $1.25.

Mr. Thwaites is an enthusiastic canoeist, combining in "Historic Waterways" historic lore and vacation pleasuring in a very agreeable manner. The "historic waterways" are the Rock, Fox, and Wisconsin Rivers. He has traversed them all from fountain-head to mouth in his canoe, and what he does n't know about them, present and past, is hardly worth knowing. — The Epoch, New York.

THWAITES. Our Cycling Tour in England. From Canterbury to Dartmoor Forest, and back by way of Bath, Oxford, and the Thames Valley. By Reuben G. Thwaites. Illustrated. 12mo, 315 pages, $1.50.

It is a volume of travel that will take the reader out of the beaten path, and carry him amid rural scenes and surroundings that have the freshness and variety of Nature, untouched by the smoke and noise of the snorting steam-engine. . . . The descriptions are graphic, and show the close and loving observer of Nature and man in every page; and they are worthy of the pen that gave us "Historic Waterways." The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

TOPELIUS. THE SURGEON'S STORIES. Translated from the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 75 cents a volume. The six volumes in neat box, $4.50.

As many of Scott's novels give vivid and truthful pictures of English history, so these stories present a galaxy of historical portraits more life-like than any drawn by the historian. — The San Francisco Chronicle.

Times of Gustaf Adolf: An Historical Romance of the Times of the Thirty Years' War.

Its vivid descriptions and thrilling episodes commend it to the lovers of romance, while its historical truthfulness and charming style make it attractive to literary readers of all classes. "The Story of the Thirty Years' War" is a fascinating chapter in history, and Topelius writes of it with great imaginative power and charm of style. — The Journal of Education, Boston.

Times of Battle and of Rest: An Historical Romance of the Times of Charles X. and Charles XI.

It gives a stirring and graphic account of the conquests of Charles X. in Poland and Denmark, . . . and the more peaceful but important events of the reign of Charles XI. . . . Topelius deals with the rich material before him like a true master of historical romance. — Good Literature, New York.

12mo, 75 cents a volume. The six volumes in neat box, $4.50.

Times of Charles XII.: An Historical Romance of the Times of Charles XII.

Under an enthusiasm caught from the study of the times of which he writes, with a rare tact for an artistic grouping of characters, and with an equally rare talent for powerful delineation and description, Professor Topelius has given us a work which will both delight and instruct the reader. — The Interior, Chicago.

Times of Frederick I.: An Historical Romance of the Period succeeding the Reign of Charles XII.

It is simply wonderful, the way in which the attention is arrested and held, and the varied and apparently inexhaustible resources which the writer has at his command. He tells us of the actions and sayings of kings and peasants with the same unsurpassed ease and naturalness, with an air of vraisemblance, as the French would say, which is very enchanting. — The National Baptist, Philadelphia.

Times of Linnæus: An Historical Romance of the Times of the Great Naturalist Linnæus.

The author has proved himself a master of the art of combination, or of putting old things into new forms, and exhibiting them in new relations and associations. His stories are so full of stir and movement, and events are described with such spirit and minute circumstantiality, as to practically disarm the critic and convert him into an absorbed reader. — The Chicago Times.

Times of Alchemy: An Historical Romance of the Dawn of the Gustavian Period of Swedish History.

"The Surgeon's Stories" are at an end. . . . The story of the nation closes with the beginning of the present era of peace and stability, while the careers of the heroes and heroines who have helped to tell it, terminate where all well-ordered fictitious careers should, — at the marriage altar. The completion of "The Surgeon's Stories" forms an event in modern literature. — The Buffalo Express.

UPTON. HANDBOOKS ON MUSIC.

By George P. Upton. 12mo, flexible cloth, extra, $1.50 a volume. The four volumes in neat box, $6.00 a set; extra gilt, gilt edges, $8.00; half calf, gilt tops, $13.00; half morocco, gilt tops, $14.00; half morocco, gilt edges, $15.00; tree calf, gilt edges, $22.00.

The information conveyed is of great value, not only to the musical student, but also to music lovers who wish to add to their capabilities of enjoyment. Mr. Upton has done a real service to this rapidly increasing class of persons, and the merit of his useful volumes has only to be properly known to be thoroughly appreciated. . . . A remarkable amount of information is given in a limited space. — The Mail and Express, New York.

The Standard Operas: Their Plots, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook.

Among the multitude of handbooks which are published every year, and are described by easy-going writers of book-notices as supplying a long-felt want, we know of none which so completely carries out the intention of the writer as "The Standard Operas," whose object is to present to its readers a comprehensive sketch of each of the operas contained in the modern repertory. — R. H. Stoddard, in The Mail and Express, New York.

The summaries of the plots are so clear, logical, and well-written that one can read them with real pleasure, which cannot be said of the ordinary operatic synopses. The Nation, New York.

The Standard Oratorios: Their Stories, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook.

Like the valuable art handbooks of Mrs. Jameson, these volumes contain a world of interesting information, indispensable to critics and art amateurs. The volume under review is elegantly and succinctly written, and the subjects are handled in a thoroughly comprehensive manner. — Public Opinion, Washington.

12mo, flexible cloth, extra, $1.50 a volume. The four volumes in neat box, $6.00 a set; extra gilt, gilt edges, $8.00.

The Standard Cantatas: Their Stories, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook.

There is a study of the cantata in its various forms, from its early simple recitative or aria style down to its present elaborate construction. The selections include quite all of the cantatas that rank high in merit. It is the only handbook and guide for musicians and their friends, and is as valuable as either of the two admirable works preceding it. — The Boston Globe.

The Standard Symphonies: Their Stories, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook.

The usefulness of this handbook cannot be doubted. Its pages are packed full of these fascinating renderings. The accounts of each composer are succinct and yet sufficient. The author has done a genuine service to the world of music-lovers. The comprehension of orchestral work of the highest character is aided efficiently by this volume. The mechanical execution of the volume is in harmony with its subject. No worthier volume can be found to put into the hands of an amateur or a friend of music. — Public Opinion, Washington.

UPTON. Woman in Music. By George P. Upton. 16mo, $1.00; half morocco, gilt top, $2.75; limp calf or morocco, $3.00.

Mr. Upton, in a series of comparatively brief chapters, has given us a kind of interior history of the domestic and heart relations of such composers as Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Mozart, Schumann, Chopin, and Wagner, filling in the larger sketches of these masters by lightly drawn but very interesting pictures of their relations with various gifted and unselfish women, who helped on their individual development, and laid the world under obligation by materially assisting in the production of some of their great compositions. — The Book-Buyer, New York.

VAN SCHAACK. Memoirs of the Life of Henry Van Schaack. Embracing Selections from his Correspondence during the American Revolution. By his nephew, Henry Cruger Van Schaack. With portrait. 8vo, 233 pages, $2.00.

As a Revolutionary biography, it is doubted whether there are many instances in which, at this period, as full material for biographical sketches of American loyalists exists as are to be found in this volume. Mr. Van Shaack lived in eventful times, and passed through popular convulsions and revolutions of the gravest character. — Extract from preface.

VON SUTTNER. "Ground Arms!" The Story of a Life. By Bertha Von Suttner. Translated from the German by Alice Asbury Abbot. 12mo, 286 pages, $1.00.

Of this wonderful novel, which carries its strong heroine rapidly through the exciting scenes of four recent gigantic wars which have desolated Europe and brought bereavement and unutterable sorrow into many households, the International Journal of Ethics, in a fifteen-page review, says: —

Entire absence of self-consciousness lends to her fiction so illusive a semblance of fact that, regarded simply as a story, the work must rank high. The imagination of the authoress has been kindled at the fire of intensest feeling, guided by a virile faculty of reasoning closely and logically. She pierces to the marrow of the thing that has taken hold of her. By that thing she is verily possessed; it has made of her a seer. . . . The bare, bald outline of "Die Waffen Nieder!" ("Ground Arms!"), which is all we have been able to attempt, can give but a faint, feeble idea of its power and pathos, and none at all of the many light and humorous touches, the well-drawn minor characters, the thrilling episodes, the piquant glimpses of the great world of Austria and France, which relieve the gloom of the tragic story.

WALPOLE. The Best Letters of Horace Walpole. See Laurel-Crowned Letters, page 15.

WALTON. The Complete Angler; or, the Contemplative Man's Recreation, of Izaak Walton. Edited, with an Introduction, by Edward Gilpin Johnson. 16mo, 287 pages, gilt top, $1.00; half calf or morocco, $2.75; limp calf or morocco, $3.00.

LARGE-PAPER EDITION. With Original Border Illustrations, printed in colors. Limited to 500 numbered copies, $4.00 net.

"The Complete Angler" has been printed in many different forms since its first appearance in 1653, but has never received a prettier or more attractive dress than that furnished by Messrs. McClurg & Co. Their aim has been to present it in choicest shape as a piece of literature rather than as a fishing manual; and thus to the book-lover its re-reading will be a new delight. It has been carefully edited by Mr. Johnson, who also furnishes a graceful introduction. —Journal of Education.

WOLF. Other Things being Equal. A Novel. By Emma Wolf. 12mo, 275 pages, $1.00.

It is a romance, pure and simple, and has the rare merit of artistic unity. It commands attention by its gentle might — the legitimate method of romance. The story goes on largely in the minds of the characters, is always temperate in style, and is developed by almost imperceptible touches. . . . It is a relief to find an unspoiled story of pure sentiment, without sensationalism, mawkish sentimentality, affected eccentricity, or the least sign of pandering to the too popular compromise with immorality. — The Boston Post.

WASHBURNE. Sketch of Edward Coles, Second Governor of Illinois, and the Slavery Struggle, 1823–24. By the Hon. E. B. Washburne. With portrait and fac-simile letters. 8vo, 253 pages, $1.50.

It must take its place among the valuable contributions to a period in American annals most important in its bearings upon the destinies of the American people. — The Standard, Chicago.

ZAHM. Sound and Music. By the Rev. J. A. Zahm, C. S. C., Professor of Physics in the University of Notre Dame. With 195 Illustrations. Royal 8vo, 452 pages, $3.50; half calf or half morocco, $6.00.

I was much pleased, as you know, with the work when I read it in manuscript; but its worth has impressed me more in its present garb. To my mind, it is by far the most accurate and complete of books on modern acoustics and on the acoustic bases of harmony. I feel sure that a work so full of information, given in such pleasing style, must have a success comporting with its merits and the conscientious work expended on it. — Prof. Alfred M. Mayer, of Stevens Institute of Technology, in a letter to the author.

This is an excellent book, presenting a subject which is always full of interest in such a way as to make it doubly attractive. While accurate and scientific in its statement of the laws and phenomena of sound, it is eminently popular, in the better sense of the word, in style and method; and the reader is thus carried through from one chapter to the next with unflagging interest. — The American Journal of Science.

SCOTT.—Sir Walter Scott's Works. WAVERLY NOVELS.

The Dryburgh Edition, to be completed in Twenty-five Volumes, Large 12mo, Cloth, and published Monthly. Each Volume containing a Complete Novel. $1.25 per vol.

 Limited Edition on large paper, sold only in sets. $5.00 per volume.

The text of this edition has the distinct advantage of having been carefully collated with the copy on which Sir WALTER SCOTT made his last notes and alterations, and which is now in the possession of the publishers. The illustrations also form an important feature, each novel having been intrusted to one artist, in order to secure that harmony and continuity of expression so essential to successful illustration. The artists employed are as follows:—CHARLES GREEN, GORDON BROWNE, PAUL HARDY, WALTER PAGET, FRANK DADD, STANLEY BERKELEY, HUGH THOMSON, H. M. PAGET, JOHN WILLIAMSON, GODFREY C. HINDLEY, WILLIAM HOLE, R.S.A., LOCKHART BOGLE, GEORGE HAY, R.S.A., C. M. HARDIE, R.S.A., W. H. OVEREND.

All the illustrations have been engraved on wood under the superintendence of Mr. J. D. COOPER, and to secure the best results they will be printed separately from the letterpress. To each novel will be appended full notes and glossaries, besides the author's introductions and notes, as well as those contributed by the late DAVID LAING, LL.D., a friend of the author, and a well-known antiquary. Volume XXV. will contain a general index to all the novels. Black.

MISCELLANEOUS.

RUSKIN'S WORKS.

The Authorized (Brantwood) Edition.

In accordance with a contract with Mr. Ruskin's English publisher, we have the pleasure of announcing the publication of the Brantwood Edition of Ruskin's Works in 22 volumes. This is the only edition published in this country with Mr. Ruskin's consent, and from the sale of which he derives a profit. The illustrations have been prepared under the author's personal supervision, and the type, paper, and style of binding are in accordance with his suggestions. Each of the prose works contains a special introduction by Prof. Charles Eliot Norton, of Harvard College, explaining the purposes for, and the conditions under which, it was written. These introductions from the pen of Mr. Ruskin's most intimate friend and most acute and sympathetic critic, many of them containing extracts from personal letters written while the works were in preparation, give to this edition a rare and unique value. The two volumes of poetry, written between the ages of seven and twenty-six, with an appendix of later poems, now first collected from original manuscript and printed sources, are edited in chronological order, with notes biographical and critical by Mr. Ruskin's secretary, William G. Collingwood, M.A. The chronological arrangement of the poems—the author's age at the time of writing being printed at the top of each page—illustrates in a most interesting manner the development of his mind and style. The two volumes of poems have been copyrighted in this country under the new law, and the attention of the public is called to the fact that, by virtue of this copyright, we shall hereafter be the only publishers in this country able to supply Ruskin's works in a uniform style of binding. This edition is intended to include what Mr. Ruskin and his literary advisers regard as the essential and permanent part of his writings, and comprises the following:

THE POLITICAL CYCLOPÆDIA.

Every one who wishes to think, speak, and act intelligently upon the great questions of the day needs this work, written by the most eminent specialists in this country and Europe; e. g., David A. Wells discusses the Tariff and Tariff Legislation from the standpoint of the free-trader, and D. H. Mason from the point of view of the protectionist. E. L. Godkin writes of Office-Holders, Prof. Alexander Johnston the articles on the Political History of the United States, Dorman B. Eaton, of Civil-Service Reform, Pres. D. C. Gilman, of Universities, Simon Sterne, of Railroads, Pres. F. A. Walker, of Public Revenue and Wages, Edward Atkinson, of Banks, John J. Knox, of the Currency, etc., Thomas M. Cooley, President Interstate Commerce Commission, of The Bar, Law of Corporations, etc., Horatio C. Burchard, ex-Director of the Mint, of Coinage, Gold, Silver, etc.

Of the multitude of cordial endorsements of the Cyclopædia received from prominent men in all parts of the country, the following are fairly representative:

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS writes: "A well-arranged and useful book of reference."

Prof. DAVID SWING says: "The three large volumes seem like foundation stones of our world. The most fundamental terms are defined and their import discussed. Events which acted as causes or come as results of society are to be found in this massive collection. These books, like a radius, sweep around the circle of political knowledge."

JAMES G. BLAINE writes: "I use it almost daily for reference, and regard it as a model."

THOMAS M. COOLEY writes: "An excellent work, convenient for anyone to have, and invaluable to a student of the Political Sciences or of American History."

J. C. BANCROFT DAVIS writes: "The work will materially help to make better citizens and more intelligent voters of the young men into whose hands it will go, and who are to control our destinies."

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION says: "It is doubtful indeed if a more important work of reference has ever been prepared."

THE NEW YORK NATION says: "A timely and valuable aid to political education. We cannot withhold our warm commendation of the industry and discrimination of the editor, and the enterprise of the publishers," and

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE says: "The type, binding, and all the technical details of this really great work of reference are of the best kind, and we can heartily echo President White's commendation and say, 'The book ought to be in the library, not only of every man who takes an active part in politics, but of every one who wishes to give thought to the discharge of his ordinary political duties.'"

C. L. S. C. BOOKS

And Required Literature

For the New Year,

OCTOBER, 1893-94.

Rome and the Making of Modern Europe, by JAMES R. JOY, A.M. 12mo. $1.

Mr. Joy has prepared an admirably condensed and yet lucid outline of Roman history, which is carried on through the Middle Ages in a way that shows very clearly how the foundations of modern European states were laid. This volume is not only intrinsically interesting, but it also presents facts and traces movements a knowledge of which is essential to a thorough understanding of nineteenth century history.

Roman and Medieval Art (with 149 illustrations), by Prof. W. H. GOODYEAR. 12mo. $1.

There is no more captivating study than that of the origin and development of the æsthetic faculties and their expression in art and architecture. In this volume Professor Goodyear, whose style is delightfully simple and readable, has traced the evolution of Greek art through Roman history into the Middle Ages. The text is richly illustrated with pictures of famous art treasures.

Outlines of Economics, by Dr. RICHARD T. ELY. 12mo. $1.

This is a radical revision of Dr. Ely's "Introduction to Political Economy," which has been so highly commended in all quarters. "The Dismal Science" under the author's skillful, sympathetic treatment becomes a most interesting study of the everyday conditions of life, which gain new significance. It is impossible to lay too much stress upon the importance of a more widely diffused and accurate knowledge of the economic and social principles so clearly set forth in this book.

Classic Latin Course in English, by Prof. W. C. WILKINSON. 12mo. $1.

Dr. Wilkinson has condensed his two volumes into one of 300 pages, retaining all the choicest passages from those authors whose influence has been felt through all the centuries down to these modern times. This book is admirably suited to give the general reader an acquaintance with the character and material of the Latin classics.

Song and Legend from the Middle Ages, edited by Prof. W. D. MCCLINTOCK and PORTER L. MCCLINTOCK. 12mo. 50 cents.

This is a delightful little book of poems and stories translated from French, Spanish, Italian, German, and Scandinavian originals. The Arthurian legends, the ballads of the Cid, choice passages from Dante, and other portions of mediæval literature make up a unique and charming volume.

Science and Prayer, by Dr. W. W. KINSLEY. 12mo. 50 cents.

This is a discussion of the alleged inconsistency between the scientific conception of natural law and the doctrine of divine interposition. The treatment is judicial and clear, and the book cannot fail to be read with interest by all.

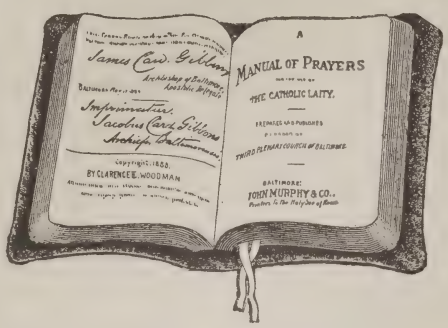
THE NEW PRAYER BOOK.

THE MANUAL OF PRAYERS.



"We have certainly had no stint of prayer books before the appearance of this one; but had there not been room for another it is certain that the Fathers of the Third Plenary Council would not have ordered one to be prepared and published. It was partly because of this very plentifulness that such action was taken, for many editions, with all kinds of titles, have been put upon the market, some of them even without episcopal approbation, some still bearing the imprimatur of bishops long since dead, and some even, sad to say, appearing with a supposed approval, which they had not received. A great many, even of the old editions, were exact reprints of foreign books that contained matter not suitable for this country, and ignoring matters that should be found in every American prayer book. Besides, in most cases, the ruling of the authorities in Rome regarding the printing of portions of the Mass and other parts of the liturgy in Latin was not complied with; and several publishers, in their eagerness to outdo rivals, inserted much matter that should have no place in a prayer book, as having no reference to any service or function in the church, but belonging rather to a work of pious reading or instruction. Many prayer books were thus made far too bulky for general use.

"It was with a view of correcting these abuses that the Manual before us was ordered to be prepared, and the priest to whom the work was entrusted has performed his duty faithfully and well. Having, in the first place, used nothing that was of doubtful authority and utility, he then submitted proof sheets of his book to the inspection of all the Bishops of the country and their views on every point he has strictly complied with. It has the imprimatur of Cardinal Gibbons, the Primate of the United States, and of Archbishop Corrigan of New York, who had special supervision of the work, and the endorsement of the entire American Hierarchy.

"Beginning with an abstracted calendar of feasts celebrated in the United States, which is followed by an abridgment of Christian doctrine, it contains not only various forms of morning and evening prayers, the devotions at Mass, instructions for Confession and Communion, the Way of the Cross, the Rosary and Scapular, as well as on the Sacraments, devotions for the sick and dying, etc., but also the Ordinary and Canon of the Mass, the Vesper service (followed by a directory for finding the psalms and hymns appointed to be sung on Sundays and principal festivals of the Christian year), Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, the blessing of candles, ashes, children and rosaries, the forms of the Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, Matrimony and Extreme Unction, the churching of women, the recommendation of a departing soul, the marriage service and nuptial mass, the burial service and office and mass for the dead, the hymns and sequences for Church seasons, etc., in both Latin and English; and not only the Epistles and Gospels for Sundays and feast days, but also the introits, collects, and post-communion. And especially should every American Catholic be pleased to find in this volume (at page 56) 'the Prayer for the Church, the Civil Authorities, etc,' composed by Bishop Carroll in the year 1800, so long omitted for some unaccountable reason from all our prayer books."

The American Catholic Quarterly Review.

Testimonials on the Manual of Prayers

FROM

Archbishops and Bishops.

The Manual of Prayers, compiled in accordance with the decrees of the Plenary Council of Baltimore, is a very creditable work, both in point of form and matter. I warmly recommend its use to the faithful of this Diocese.

M. A. Corrigan, ARCHBISHOP OF NEW YORK.

It gives me great gratification to pronounce the work to be, beyond all comparison, the most complete prayer book in the English Language. Independently of its utility as a manual of prayers, it will be found invaluable as a book of reference and instruction, containing admirable translations of the most important portions of the Liturgy of the Church. To priests it will be for this reason very useful in explaining the doctrines and ceremonies of the Sacraments and Sacramentals.

P. J. Ryan, ARCHBISHOP OF PHILADELPHIA.

I trust the book will meet with that approbation which its merit, as a manual of devotion, deserves. Yours sincerely,

P. W. Riordan, ARCHBISHOP OF SAN FRANCISCO.

The book long ago received a pretty thorough examination at my hands, and won my complete approval. It remains merely to wish that the book may very soon come into the hand of all Catholics, to be by them devoutly and diligently used. I am, very faithfully, your servant in Xt.

A. A. Curtis, BISHOP OF WILMINGTON.

We have waited long for this Manual, and our reward is all the greater, for the book is superior to any I know, and complete both in type, style, and formalities of prayers and devotions.

Very sincerely in Christ,

E. P. Wadhams, BISHOP OF OGDENSBURG.

Its careful compilation by competent clergymen, and the approbation of the Apostolic Delegate, should earnestly commend it to all good Catholics. I congratulate you on the elegant manner in which the work has been brought out.

Yours faithfully in Xt,

John Foley, BISHOP OF DETROIT.

Though I saw and partially examined it in course of publication, I must confess that I am more than pleased with it in the form and style in which you have brought it out. It is full and complete in matter, and it will enable the laity to follow understandingly and fruitfully the devotional, soul-inspiring liturgy of the Church in all its offices, rites, and prayers. I most heartily recommend it, and hope that it may soon come into general use among our people.

Yours respectfully,

S. V. Ryan, BISHOP OF BUFFALO.

The bishop is well pleased with the Manual; it is intelligently edited, and, he adds, for an explanation of the Sacraments, ceremonies, and liturgy of the Church, it will prove a welcome and instructive book for the Catholics of the United States; it is a splendid book indeed to place in the hands of non-Catholics as well.

Very respectfully yours,

John F. Lang, Secretary, DIOCESE OF FORT WAYNE.

It is indeed gratifying to have at last a book of common prayer for the Catholic laity of the United States, recommended and approved by the American hierarchy. Certainly no further recommendation is necessary, and I earnestly trust that as it is the most authoritative prayer book ever published in this country, it may speedily supersede all others now in use, and find its way into the hands of all the faithful. I am gratefully and sincerely yours,

Maurice F. Burke, BISHOP OF CHEYENNE.

I was very much pleased with the perusal of the book. The instructions and explanations it contains about the Sacraments are very important. It is a very useful prayer book, and I hope it will soon be in the hands of every English-speaking Catholic. I remain sincerely yours,

John C. Neraz, BISHOP OF SAN ANTONIO.

The approval by the Cardinal and the "imprimatur" of the Archbishop of New York are a sufficient guarantee that the book is in strict conformity with the doctrines and discipline of the Church. It is my wish that a copy of the prayer book may find its way into every Catholic home in this diocese.

J. O'Sullivan, BISHOP OF MOBILE.

Sound doctrine is the basis of all solid piety. The Manual instructs whilst it feeds the soul with holy inspirations and teaches how to pray. Nothing that a good prayer book should contain seems to have been omitted. Your part of the labor will meet the approval of all who appreciate taste and art in book-making. I trust the Manual will soon be in universal use. Very sincerely yours,

Leo Haid, ABBOT, VIC. APOS. OF N. C.

The Catholic laity have now a complete and authoritative translation of the Latin text of the sublime prayers used by the Church in the administration of the Sacraments, the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, the Vesper Service, the devotion to the Eucharistic God, etc. They cannot fail to grow in solid Catholic piety when reading attentively and reverently the beautiful word-forms consecrated by the ecclesiastical usage of centuries, and endorsed for ages by the living authority of God's Church.

Camillus Paul Maes, BISHOP OF COVINGTON.

From a brief examination I find it to be mainly a compilation from the Missal, Breviary, and Ritual. It is, therefore, not only a book of devotion, but also a book of instruction which is beyond all question orthodox. In my humble opinion it will prove a great blessing to the laity, as, besides supplying them with only authorized prayers and devotions, it will enable them to have a thorough understanding of the Sacraments and the ceremonies of the Church. The book has a very handsome appearance. Yours faithfully,

Richard Scannell, BISHOP OF CONCORDIA.

It is well gotten up, elegant, and, as far as I can judge, according to the order of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore. Your devoted servant,

Ægidius Junger, BISHOP OF NESQUALLY.

I think this Manual satisfies all demands and will be appreciated by the people. I remain sincerely yours in Xt,

John J. Hennessy, BISHOP OF WICHITA.

There is in it nothing superfluous and nothing wanting. What is in it, being chosen chiefly from the Missal, Breviary, and Ritual, is the very best. Its form is attractive and convenient. Sincerely yours in Xt,

Henry Joseph Richter, BISHOP OF GRAND RAPIDS.

It is just what the last Council has promised, and it will undoubtedly do much good, not only as a prayer book for different occasions, but especially by leading the people to a better understanding of the ceremonies of the Church, enabling the reader to follow, in his own language, the priest in the performance of his sacred duties. The book should not be wanting in any Catholic household. Respectfully yours,

Administrator, DIOCESE GREEN BAY.

The New Prayer Book ordered by the Third Plenary Council.

MANUAL OF PRAYERS,

For the Use of the Catholic Laity.

722 pages. 16mo.

Size 4 × 5½ inches.

PREPARED AND ENJOINED BY ORDER OF THE THIRD PLENARY COUNCIL OF BALTIMORE.

The only Complete Compendium of the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Church ever compiled.

338 THANKSGIVING AFTER COMMUNION.

Thine own the whole powers of my soul, my memory, my intellect, and all my will. All that I am, and all that I have, Thou hast bestowed upon me: therefore I give back all to Thee, and surrender it to be wholly governed by Thy sovereign will. Grant me but grace to love Thee alone, and I am rich enough and ask no more.

Here may be said the Tantum Ergo (p. 222), the Lauda Sion (p. 632), the Pange Lingua (p. 627), or any other Hymn in honor of the Blessed Sacrament.

A PRAYER (i)

*To which Pope Pius VII. has annexed a Plenary Indulgence, which all the faithful may obtain who, after having confessed their sins with contrition, and received the Holy Communion, shall devoutly recite it before an image or representation of Christ crucified.

Behold, O kind and most sweet Jesus, I cast myself upon my knees in Thy sight, and with the most fervent desire of my soul I pray and beseech Thee that Thou wouldst impress upon my heart lively sentiments of Faith, Hope, and Charity, with true repentance for my sins, and a firm desire of amendment, whilst with deep affection and grief of soul I ponder within myself and mentally contemplate Thy five most precious Wounds; having before my eyes that which David spake in prophecy: They have pierced my hands and feet; they have numbered all my bones.

* Add five Our Fathers and five Hail Marys, for the intentions of the Holy Father. (S. Cong. Indulg., July 31, 1858.)

(Exact size of type and page).

To correct errors found in many Catholic Prayer Books this Manual was prepared, by order of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore. It is endorsed by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons and by the Most Rev. Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, who had special supervision of the work. Each page in proof-sheets was submitted to all the Bishops of the country and by them approved. Being the only Prayer Book having this high endorsement, it will take the place, as the Council intended it should, of the various Prayer Books heretofore used.

MANUAL OF PRAYERS.—Continued.

It is universally conceded that the Fathers of the late Council have in this book given to their people the best expression of Catholic devotion to be found in the English language.

DEVOTIONS FOR MASS. 123

THE CREED.

Renew here your faith. All these things, which the Church proposes to your belief, are founded on God's own word, revealed in the Scriptures, announced by the prophets and the apostles, supported by miracles, confirmed by the martyrs, verified by the establishment of our faith, and obvious by the sanctity of our religion.

CREDO in unum Deum, Patrem omnipotentem, factorem cœli et terræ, visibilium omnium, et invisibilium. Et in

I BELIEVE in one God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. And in one

(Fac-simile of type.)

The universal popularity of this Manual among the Rev. Clergy and the people of the country—which has steadily increased from its first appearance,—renders it needless to enlarge upon its merits here. Originally prepared for use of the Sisters of Charity, it became not only their ordinary manual but that of many thousands of pious Catholics throughout the land. Since its adoption for general use upwards of two hundred thousand copies have been sold, which fact evidences its standing among the faithful.

The many high eulogiums passed upon the book by the Archbishops and Bishops of the United States and Canada have all been sustained and repeated by the authorities of the Church.

Many devotions, not usually found in prayer books, have been included in this edition: such as The Way of the Cross, the prayers of Bona Mors, Meditations for every day in the year, The Scapular, The Living Rosary, The Month of May, etc., etc., making it complete, accurate and convenient.

42 DEVOTIONS FOR MASS.

AT THE COMMENCEMENT OF MASS.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

IT is in thy name, O adorable Trinity! it is to honor thee, and to do thee homage, that I presume to assist at this most holy and august sacrifice. Permit me then, O Lord! to unite my intention with that of thy minister, in offering up this precious victim; and give me now the sentiments with which I should have been filled on Mount Calvary, had I been witness to the bloody sacrifice offered thereon.

CONFITEOR.

Think now, in the bitterness of your heart, on all your past sins, and recall to your mind in a general manner, such of them as are most humbling to you. Lay your weaknesses before God. Beg of him to pardon you, and to assist you in all your necessities, through the infinite merits of this great sacrifice.

The Prayer.

LORD Jesus Christ who wouldst be bound by the hands of wicked men; loosen, I beseech thee, the chains of my sins, and so tie me with the bands of charity, and cords of thy commandments, that I may, neither in thought, word or deed, offend thee hereafter.

Amen.

MANUAL OF PRAYERS. To correct errors found in many Catholic Prayer Books this Manual was prepared, by order of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore. It is endorsed by His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons and by the Most Rev. Archbishop Corrigan of New York, who had special supervision of the work. Each page in proof-sheets was submitted to all the Bishops of the country and by them approved. Being the only Prayer Book having this high endorsement, it will take the place as the Council intended it should, of the various Prayer Books heretofore used. 792 pages. 16mo.

ST. VINCENT'S MANUAL. 966 pages. 16mo. The universal popularity of this Manual among the Rev. Clergy and the people of the country—which has steadily increased from its first appearance,—renders it needless to enlarge upon its merits here. Originally prepared for use of the Sisters of Charity, it became not only their ordinary manual but that of many thousands of pious Catholics throughout the land. Since its adoption for general use upwards of two hundred thousand copies have been sold, which fact evidences its standing among the faithful. The many high eulogiums passed upon the book by the Archbishops and Bishops of the United States and Canada have all been sustained and repeated by the authorities of the Church.

Many devotions, not usually found in prayer books, have been included in this edition; such as The Way of the Cross, the prayers of Bona Mors, Meditations for every day in the year, The Scapular, The Living Rosary, The Month of May, etc., etc., making it complete, accurate and convenient.

Mrs. Cheal has recorded a series of events that have actually occurred, the romance of which proves the saying true that "truth is more strange than fiction."

The loss of a cheque caused loss of employment to the loser, anxiety to many, and separation of loved friends. That weakness may be sin, is shown by the character of Victor Raymond; that total abstinence is the only safe course is shown by the lives of Victor's father and Mr. Hearne.

Made Man, A. Sequel to "Story of Rasmus." 12mo, 308 pp. By Mrs. J. McNair Wright..... 1 25

Temperance is so fully in the field of politics that the youth should be trained for citizens who can make and maintain temperance laws, and we need to lead their minds into wide fields of thought. . . . The story of "Rasmus," in both its parts, shows us the possibilities that lie in a vast, neglected, and tempted class; lie in them, and are forever lost in them, through lack of righteous legislation and proper social principles! Rasmus shows us what might be—and what might be in such as he—the nation's gain. If we go to the slums and the police courts we shall see what is, and what is in him, the nation's enormous, irremediable loss.

The peace, prosperity, and successful government of a mining community are largely due to the good example and wise counsels of the Superintendent, who prohibited all liquor selling and drinking, and who daily lived up to the precepts of the "Golden Rule." Indeed, strikes among his men were unknown. His boy "Nat" early adopted the same motto, and in his life we see the zealous student, the successful engineer, and at last the honored president of a rich mining company, the result of faithful adherence to duty and taking "one step at a time." One More Chance. 12mo, 598 pp. By Mrs. S. M. I. Henry. Paper cover, 50 cents; cloth..... 1 50

It treats of the principle of heredity—the old stone distillery and the little meeting-house of one hundred years ago sending their antagonistic influences down the generations in the same veins, bringing about that strange conflict of the spirit and the flesh, of purity and impurity, that is at the bottom of so much crime and insanity in this day. It shows, in the character of Maggie Dwight, that strong drink will do for a girl, in spite of physical beauty and many delicate instincts, just what it would do to a man.

The story shows how time and his surroundings developed latent powers and opened promises of strong and efficient manhood, and also shows how he is defeated at every point by the love of his mother's wine, until sorrow, for which this life can find no room for any compensation, comes to the old homestead.

MISCELLANEOUS BOUND PUBLICATIONS.

Alcohol and the State. A discussion of the problem of law as applied to the liquor-traffic. 12mo, 411 pp. By Robert C. Pitman, LL.D., Associate Judge of Superior Court of Massachusetts. Paper, 50 cts.; cloth, 1 50

It treats with great conciseness and marked ability of what the State loses in various ways through alcohol, and, in turn, of what is the duty and proper function of the State concerning alcohol. It is of a high order of literary merit, and is a book for statesmen, legislators, and all intelligent, thoughtful temperance men and women everywhere. It shows that the liquor-traffic is the enemy of the State, and the foe of all the objects for which the State exists; and presents such strong arguments, statistics, appeals, and authorities as will add greatly to an intelligent and wise solution of the liquor problem. The economic and legislative aspects of the alcoholic discussion have never been so ably presented, and it should be in the hands of every citizen and in every library in the land.

It is Vol. III. in the series of American Standard Works, and will be found one of the best.

This volume considers, in five chapters, the special question of the Evil of Intemperance in Society, taking up the subject in the following order: The Evil in its Social and National Phases; in its Relations to Religion; its Influence on Education; the facts in regard to the Two-Wine Theory; a consideration of the Old and New Objections to Total Abstinence and Prohibition. It aims to be an exhaustive treatment of the various phases, amounting to a hundred or more, involved in these general headings, and to bring to the illustration and defence of the positions taken by the essayist, facts which have long been undisputed, as also those of the most recent date, some of the latter being first brought to light while the volume was going through the press.
